

The most effective talent search.

The CV database is an intuitive tool developed for recruiters and human resources specialists. This includes the option of searching for the appropriate candidates for available positions, tracking the job market, and creating a pool of qualified candidates. All of this in an improved and comprehensive environment, which we've upgraded in numerous ways.

More than 65,000 active CVs
to choose from our new CV database.

Emphasis on search quality and accuracy of results

The new CV database focuses on the quality of the search and the accuracy of the results, to ensure the most effective work with candidates. The search is based on relevance, preferring a combination of how long and how recent candidates' work experience is.

Filters and searching for candidates

Upgrades that take recruiting to the next level have also been applied to filtering CVs in the database. We've extended the options of choosing criteria in a way, so that it's possible for the recruiter to select the perfect candidate.

A steadily updated database

The candidate's CV becomes accessible as soon as they upload or update it. Furthermore, when entering the criteria, the results are shown even without confirming the filter. This way you can instantly get in touch with the freshest job hunters

Intuitive environment with perfect visibility

Working with CVs has become even easier after improvements. We've adjusted the database interface to make it as suitable as possible for the needs of recruiters. The advanced search has moved directly to the list of candidates and the search criteria options have been expanded.
